Earthquake Days* Named 2006 Benjamin Franklin Award Finalist

San Francisco Bay Area author David Burkhart's new book, Earthquake Days: The 1906 San Francisco Earthquake & Fire in 3-D (Faultline Books), has been named one of the three finalists in the History/Political category of the 2006 Benjamin Franklin Awards, one of the book publishing industry's most prestigious honors.

Named after America's most cherished publisher/printer, the Benjamin Franklin Awards recognizes excellence in independent publishing. Publications, grouped by genre, are judged on editorial and design merit by top practitioners in each field. Trophies are awarded to the best books in several categories. They will be presented to the winning publishers at the Benjamin Franklin 2006 Award Presentation Ceremony, to be held on May 17, 2006, at the Washington DC Convention Center.
